Pressure Wash NY was started by Evan Walsh with one simple goal: do quality work, treat people right, and leave every property better than we found it.

What began as a small local operation has grown through word of mouth, repeat customers, and a commitment to doing things the right way — not the fast way. Evan is hands-on in the business and takes pride in showing up prepared, communicating clearly, and delivering consistent results.

We believe in professional equipment, safe cleaning methods, and honest service. No shortcuts. No pushy sales tactics. Just reliable exterior cleaning you can feel confident about.
